

Joel Billy River Of Dreams

In the middle of the night I go walking in my sleep
From the mountains of faith
To a river so deep
I must be looking for something
Something sacred I lost
But the river is wide
And it's too hard to cross
And even though I know the river is wide
I walk down every evening and I stand on the shore
And [...]

Joel also says that the river is a religious image, as "there's baptizing in a river and you have to cross the river - people are getting dunked in the river and there's rivers of blood." The cover of the River Of Dreams album was painted by supermodel Christie Brinkley, who was Joel's second wife.
